I created an account to test SMS notifications for a small personal project and realized the platform requires additional regulatory registration fees (A2P 10DLC), making it unsuitable for my use case. I was not aware of these fees, which are beyond my budget. I would like to close the account and request a refund of the initial $20 trial credit if possible.

Would you like to proceed with closing your account right now?

yes

Can you clarify if the $20 was a payment you made, or if it was the free trial credit provided by Twilio?

i made the payment of $20, billed to my visa credit card ending in 6479
